DR. J. G. GILKEY SPEAKS AT MORNING CHAPEL SERVICE

Former Amherst Professor Discusses The Religious Problem as Presented to College Students

WIDELY KNOWN LECTURER

Dr. James Gordon Gilkey, a former professor of Biblical Literature at Amherst College, and now engaged in ministerial work in Springfield, Mass., addressed the student body at the 11 o'clock chapel service this morning on the subject "Religious Problems at Many Colleges."

Dr. Gilkey said that his subject had occurred to him while he was still teaching at Amherst College in New England. There a student had placed a question mark in a niche on the wall to represent that he was doubtful concerning the origin and existence of God. Students everywhere, he finds, have some conception of Him. They wonder just how God touches their lives.

Dr. Gilkey is a modernist and from a modernistic point of reasoning, he attempted to explain his way of proving the existence of God. He says that we must know there is a God first because of the beauty of the universe. Then we know that God exists because the world is in order. Things cannot be in order unless God

THE WEEKLY QUESTIONNAIRE

Compiled by Harry H. Pote

Every periodical in some manner seeks to satisfy its readers and most of them have resorted to the prohibition poll. The Weekly also desires the opinion of its readers but not wishing to be like other publications has compiled a series of questions which include everything but this national issue.

Some of these queries may seem to be ridiculous; others may be too philosophical; and still others, may be sensible; but most of them are just questions.

To all there is an answer. If everyone answers them, the results should be quite interesting, so fill in the blanks with your own ideas. Girls should mail them to the "Weekly Questionnaire." For the men students a special drop box in the College post office has been provided. Send in your answer, and watch for results.

WEEKLY STAFF HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET

History of Paper Revealed by Dr. Omwake and Dr. Yost in Testimonials; Members of Board Speak

ALSPACH IS TOASTMASTER

The First Annual Banquet of the Weekly Staff was held on Monday, April 4th, in the upper dining room at 6 p. m. Thirty-five students, including members of the old as well as the new staffs, attended. At the conclusion of the dinner, Alfred C. Alspach '33, Editor-in-Chief of the Weekly and toastmaster for the evening, introduced the speakers.

E. Earle Stibitz, '32, retiring editor, the first speaker, commented upon the unifying effect of the banquet upon such an organization as the Weekly staff, which is too likely to be a disorganized group. In conclusion he suggested to the new staff members that they "set aside personal ambition and desire for promotion" and devote themselves to the service of the Weekly. "Advancement will be the result of service."

Professor J. Harold Brownback, a member of the Board of Managers, stressed the excellent manner in which the paper has been conducted. Professor Brownback congratulated the staff upon this evidence of their good work.

PLANS FOR JR. PROM

Junior week-end is quickly approaching. Friday night, April 29th, is the prom. Plans are well under way for this the gala event of the year. A new and unusual theme of decoration is being worked out in collaboration with Dennison's of Philadelphia. The favors will parallel all those of previous years and will consist of articles of jewelry. If everything works out as the committee is expecting Tal Henry and his orchestra will be on hand to entertain you.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID OF

"THE DEVIL IN THE CHEESE"

Here is what William Lyon Phelps said of "The Devil in the Cheese"—"Brilliant witty, diverting—two hours of unalloyed delight. The most amusing play on Broadway."

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman was asked: "Is there a worth-while comedy being played in New York today?" He answered: "Yes; there is one that is simply bubbling over with true humor, and, what is more, it is clean. It is 'The Devil in the Cheese.' It is a beautiful situation, very cleverly worked out. I am happy to commend it, because one of the great needs of our unrelaxing life is to know when to laugh."

DR. STAUDT OF BAGDAD

ADDRESSES "Y" MEETING

President of University of Beirut Tells of His Experiences With The Mohammedans

URGES CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE

Dr. Calvin K. Staudt, President of the University of Beirut in Bagdad, was the speaker at a joint Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday, April 6, in Bomberger Hall.

Thomas Meyers '35 read the scripture and Ruth Haines '34 led in prayer, after which Jacob Weaver '32 introduced the speaker. The topic for his speech was "Experiences with the Mohammedans."

The central theme running through Dr. Staudt's speech was that Iraq, formerly called Mesopotamia, the country in which Bagdad is situated, has been suddenly exposed to the western world. This is the plastic period of that country, the time for moulding it and introducing the influences of Christianity. In twenty or twenty-five years more it will be too late.

Dr. Staudt is a native of Berks County near Wernersville, and graduated from Franklin and Marshall College and the Lancaster Theological Seminary. At present he is home on a leave of absence but expects to resume his work in Bagdad this July.

As an introduction to his talk, Dr. Staudt said a few words about his trip to the place of the Oracle of Apollo at Delphi and about the "Sacred Way," the highway across the desert over which he will pass in July to Iraq. This country of Iraq is only about three months old and will soon have complete independence. At present a great chance is open to make its people Christians at least in fact, if not in name.

"DIE ANKUNFT" PRESENTED BY GERMAN DEPARTMENT

The German play, "Die Ankunft" ("The Arrival"), a one act play in German, was presented Tuesday evening, April 5, in the west music studio of Bomberger Hall.

Dr. Yost, head of the German department, under whose direction the play was produced, gave a synopsis of the play, the scene of which is laid in New York City. The plot involves a German family who, awaiting the arrival of their nephew from Germany, mistake their servant's cousin, Fritz, for the nephew of the same name. The complicated situation is easily explained when identification papers are produced by each of the young men.

The cast included: the mother, Anne Uhrich '32; Frieda, the daughter, Marian Kepler '32; Emma, her sister, Pauline Grove '32; the servant, Mary Reider '32; the brother, Leo Bressler '32; the cousin, Curtis Swope '32; and the nephew, Eugene Miller '33. Mary Brendle was chairman of the property committee.

MEN'S COUNCIL MEETS

Provision for the selection of a Men's Student Council for next year was made at a meeting held Thursday, November 14.

The nominating for this council will take place on Monday, May 2, at which time twelve men will be nominated from the present junior class, eight from the sophomore, and four from the freshman. Tuesday, May 17, is the date set for the election.

The Student Council also set May 21 as the tentative date for a Sport Dance. Arrangements for it will be made later.

ORATORIO PRESENTED SUNDAY

The oratorio, "The Passion of Our Lord" according to St. Matthew, was presented in Bomberger, Sunday, April 10, at 4 p. m. The music of the drama was written by Johann Sebastian Bach.

The chorus, under the capable direction of Jeannette Douglass Hartenstine, was composed of over one hundred voices, including members of the Emmanuel Lutheran Choir, Haydn Choral Society, the Junior Choir, and the Children's Choir.

The solo parts were as follows:

Jesus Alton Peterman
Pilate Albert Kochel
Judas Leon Huber
Maid Ella Keller
Evangelist Mark Runkel
Peter Floyd Roshon
High Priest Harry Erb
Maid Mary Walters
Pilate's Wife Florence Wien

Their recitative parts were accompanied by Minnie Just Keller at the organ, and Kenneth Fryer at the piano. The entire chorus displayed fine "a capella" work.

The drama unfolded the story of Jesus from the time of the conspiracy against his life to the period immediately after the Crucifixion.

LOIS STRICKLER CHOSEN

TO REIGN AS MAY QUEEN

"The Bell of Kharkov" by Virginia Meyer Will Be Presented As Annual May Day Pageant

LOST CLAPPER IS THEME

At a meeting held Tuesday, April 5, Lois Strickler '32 was elected May Queen.

Miss Strickler is well qualified for this honor. She has been active in athletics, having starred in basketball and tennis for four years and varsity hockey for two years. When a Junior, "Billie" received the popular athletic blazer as a reward for having been the most outstanding girl athlete. In dramatics, she has shown unusual ability. As president of the Women's Student Government Association, she has been one of the outstanding leaders of her class. In all, "Billie" has been well chosen for the 1932 May Queen.

The May Queen's Attendants

Freshman—Gertrude Norley.

May Pageant May 14

On Saturday, May 14, Ursinus College will hold its annual May festival, at which time, "The Bell of Kharkov," a pageant written by Virginia Meyer '33, will be presented.

The scene of this pageant is laid in Kharkov, a medieval town of the Balkans. The time of the year is May Day, and the May Queen is to be crowned. The people have gathered from the whole countryside to witness this performance. The town elders are presiding over the group. Sud-

SOCIAL COUNCIL PLANS

FOR FUTURE ACTIVITIES

A meeting of the Council on Social Activities was held on Tuesday evening at 6.45 in Room 7. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss suggested dates for future social activities which will take place on the campus. Due to conflicts, it was necessary to change the dates of some events already scheduled.

The gymnasium exhibition which was announced for April 8 has been postponed until April 15. On condition that examinations do not start until after May 19, the sport dance sponsored by the Men's Student Council will take place on Saturday, May 21. Otherwise, this occasion will be held on May 13, as in former years.

On Saturday afternoon, May 21, the Seniors will hold a card party in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium. The annual senior play is scheduled for Friday night, June 3.

WOMENS STUDENTS SELECT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES

The following were chosen to represent their classes on next year's student council: Junior, Helene Gohs; Sophomore, Florence Frosch; and Freshman, Dorothea Wieand.

JUNIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT

"THE DEVIL IN THE CHEESE"

Extra! Extra! The Junior Class presents a three act play, "The Devil in the Cheese." This fantastic comedy, by Tom Cushing, will be given on April 30, 1932.

This play portends to furnish an evening of entertainment that will be comparable to those that have been made possible by the many other fine plays that have been presented heretofore. The unusual lines, characters, and settings are being perfected by the excellent cast and Mr. Sheeder.

Imagine, Floyd Heller as Mr. Quigley, a fussy but successful man of sixty, who thinks life is a game and people are only ivory chessmen to be pushed about as he desires. Fancy, Clair Hubert as an engaging young man (also an engaged one) with an unaffected devastating smile and a ne'er-do-well appearance. Then there is our own infallible head waiter, Al Creager, who, as an English valet, covers his cockney accent with American slang acquired through fifteen years residence in Pittsburgh. He always manages to say the wrong thing at the right time.

Come to see our organist and wrestler as Min—"the devil in the cheese," and Rena Grim as Goldina, the lovely golden-haired heroine. You can't afford to miss the other characters, "Peggy" Deger as Mrs. Quigley, the woman with the extravagant tongue, and the dashing, sleek villain, Petros, portrayed by "Chuck" Kraft. The action takes place in a monas-

FROSH-SOPH TRACK MEET

SCHEDULED FOR WEDNESDAY

Rainy Weather Forces Cancellation of Drexel and Temple Baseball Games; Battery Staff Progressing

SOPH TRACKSTERS FAVORED

All necessary arrangements have been made by the Men's Student Council and Dr. Rubin, coach of the track team, for the Freshman-Sophomore meet. This contest inaugurates the competitive track season on Patterson Field. The date is Wednesday, April 13. The first event will begin at 2.30 p. m.

The second year men seem to be the favorites. Outstanding of these are: Tropp, Shade, Gregory, Clark. The greatest threats for the frosh are: Brian, Harris, Mueller, Pole, Heck, Henkels, and T. Price.

The officials for the meet are: Starter, Stanley Omwake; judges of finish, Covert, Jamison, and Stibitz; field judges, Paul, Lodge, Reese, and Robbins; scorer, Clawson; announcer, Scirica.

Old Jupe Pluvius put a crimp on the diamond activities over the week-end. The Drexel game scheduled for Saturday was cancelled because of rain, as was the Temple tiff today. The opener with Drexel was to have inaugurated the Eastern Pa. Collegiate Baseball League, of which the Ursinus mentor, Jing Johnson, was the sponsor.

The varsity nine will meet Drexel at Philadelphia on April 16. In spite of the inclement weather, the battery candidates are working out daily in the gym, and are steadily rounding into shape.

THE VALUE OF MUSEUMS

In connection with the history courses, many of the college students have either had the opportunity or, in some cases, have been urged to visit the University of Pennsylvania Museum in Philadelphia. In many cases this has been considered a task necessary to the completion of a course in Ancient History, and the real values contained within the walls of the museum are ignored or unappreciated. Unless the average student has a knowledge or interest in some special aspect of the museum, he is likely to go rambling through at leisure, letting his eyes rest on objects soon to be forgotten. A list of important objects, such as the history courses offer, enable him to have some such knowledge and should promote enough interest for the student to be aroused to a real appreciation of the museum collection.

In actual money value, the museum is undoubtedly worth a large sum. Just how much that is we do not know, but we feel safe in saying that that alone would warrant a justified interest in its contents. More important than actual money, however, is that value which the museum officials have placed upon their collection from a more or less sentimental point of view. When we stop to consider that an object may be thousands of years old and linked with men of the remote past, it is easy to understand why our interest should extend far beyond money value and should be an interest of real enjoyment and appreciation.

THE WEEKLY QUESTIONNAIRE

On another page of this issue will be found a list of questions. Space is provided for an answer and instructions given for the entry of the answers. To be worth anything, this questionnaire must be answered by a large percentage of the student body.

Some of the questions are humorous, others serious. All should be answered.

Send in your ideas on these weighty matters and watch for the compilation of results in a later issue of the Weekly.

THE Y. M. C. A. ELECTION

The annual election of Y. M. C. A. officers for the ensuing year will take place Wednesday from 12.30 to 1.00 P. M., in a room to be announced. This event should warrant the attention of the members of the men's student body. During the past year the "Y" has taken great steps forward in spite of the curtailed income.

Next year everyone will automatically be a member of the Christian Association, the membership money being included in the College comprehensive fee.

The present officers desire a good attendance at the election, so do not forget to come and vote.

A FUTILE PROTEST

After thirty-three days of abstinence from food, an elderly scholar in Washington, D. C., gave up his hunger strike. The fifty-seven year old man, weak and emaciated, had decided to starve himself to death in protest against the industrial world which ignores intellectual men.

He is the holder of three university degrees, but is unable to find suitable employment. One peanut was the total amount of food that he ate during his self styled "hunger strike." Now he has broken his fast and is going to join a colony where other people with ideas similar to his are congregated.

Authorities searched the law books and found that the gentleman had a legal right to end his life in this manner if he so desired. Perhaps he does, but this attitude of flying the white flag whenever a difficulty presents itself is surely not commendable and not worthy of a "scholar."

We wonder whether the man in question has changed his mind about the beauty of self sacrifice. If there is anything that an education should do for a man, it should make him more adaptable to circumstances and conditions.

No intelligent man would bother his head about or waste sympathy on a man who lies down supinely to die. The scholar's "protest" seems too vain. Whatever may be the evils of this industrial world in which we are living, factories and shops are essential to our very existence and when a man sits down to starve, he deserves no sympathy.

'30—Three Ursinus graduates have been awarded scholarships in the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School for the year 1932-33. Calvin Yost earned one in the English Department; Philip Willauer was awarded one in the pursuance of his studies in Political Science, and Nelson Bortz was granted one by the Department of Economics.

'24—Rev. Paul Wesley Bare is minister of the Cokesbury Methodist Episcopal Church at Marcus Hook, Pa. He has introduced an innovation in church music by organizing a Swiss Hand Bell quartet composed of young girls from his Sunday School. Mr. Bare has supervised the training of the quartet and has himself acquired considerable skill in handling the bells.

WOMEN STUDENTS COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL DEBATING TOUR

After a successful tour through the western part of our State, the Women's Debating team has returned to Ursinus College. The home team defeated the debating team of Westminster College by a 3-0 decision while no decision was given at Seton Hill.

The subject of the debates was: "Resolved, that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle." The Ursinus team, which upheld the negative side of the question, was composed of Jane Price '32 and Rena Grim '33.

On Tuesday, April 5, the Ursinus girls debated the team of Westminster College at New Wilmington. The Oregon Plan of debating was used. The affirmative side was upheld by Louise Adams and Mildred Ralston. On Wednesday, April 6, the debate was held at Seton Hill College in Greensburg but no decision was given. The affirmative side here was composed of Miss Scalera and Miss Boggs.

The Ursinus team with their chaperon, Mrs. Isenberg, was entertained at the Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh by Miss Errett, a former physical education teacher of Ursinus College.

AFF. DEFEATS SWARTHMORE

The women's affirmative debating team of Ursinus met the Swarthmore women's team on Friday evening, April 8, in Bomberger Hall.

Muriel Ingram '33 and Nadine Jones '34 opposed the Misses Schaeffer and Sutton of Swarthmore. The question for debate was stated, "Resolved: that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle." The Oregon system of argument was used.

Father Ganter of Collegeville; Mr. English, principal of Royersford High School; and Mr. Gensler, Superintendent of Montgomery County Schools, judged the debate and decided on a 2-1 decision in favor of Ursinus.

INTERNAT. RELATIONS CLUB MEETS AT SHREINER HALL

A meeting of the International Relations Club was held at Shreiner Hall last Tuesday evening with Albert Scirica '32 presiding. A talk was given by Iris Lutz '33 on Philippine strategic importance and the problem of its independence. The Irish political question was discussed at length by Aram Parunak '33. A vote was taken on both questions, in which the assembly favored the independence of the Philippines, with provisions, and the retention of the Irish oath of allegiance to England. The advisability of the group's attending a regional conference of the International Relations Clubs at Syracuse University was discussed, and a program of current events was planned for a future date.

GAFF FROM THE GRIZZLY

It is a dark secret that there is a woman who is all cut up about Cliff Thoroughgood.

Among the prominent men on the campus who are attempting to raise mustaches are Herron, Ottinger, and Soeder. (GAFF doesn't deem it necessary to draw further attention to his own.)

At the recent Weekly Staff banquet, ex-editor Stibitz revealed the astonishing fact that he "happened to know his father."

Mr. C. V. Roberts has taken a special interest in the subject now under discussion in Biology 12. Is he holding something from us?

Danny Little, the Amherst Ampere, at last came through. For full particulars see either Dr. Winkler or Mr. Commercial.

The Tower Window

A LUMNI of Ursinus will be interested in the fact that last week the College received the first check representing the proceeds of Building and Loan shares subscribed in the name of the institution by a graduate in the 1925 financial campaign. For those who may not be informed on the subject, it should be stated that in that campaign, alumni, students then in College, and non-graduate former students were provided with a plan by which they might subscribe for double shares in the building and loan association, the proceeds to be paid on maturity to the College. Thus by paying monthly dues, and having added thereto the earnings of the Association, persons could provide amounts that it would have been quite impossible to give in a single contribution at the time of the canvass.

In this way gifts aggregating approximately $100,000 at maturity were undertaken in various building and loan associations over the country. While six or seven years had to be covered in the process during which time the fortunes of subscribers were destined to change for better or for worse and since the plan required that dues be paid once a month throughout, it was scarcely to be expected that all subscribers would stay in the ranks until the end. The chief trouble arose from the simple fact that subscribers would forget to pay their dues, but in most cases where lapses occurred they were afterwards made up and the fund was kept working. Those who had the endurance to weather the first few years have, as a rule, kept in line. For these, their gifts as they will be coming to the College treasury presently, will represent not only benefactions for their Alma Mater but a sort of moral triumph for themselves.

We are not informed as to just how many of the original subscribers are still in the front ranks, but it is probably a safe estimate that the fund will net at least $75,000. This sum should reach the treasurer of Ursinus College during the years 1932 and 1933. In but few cases are the subscriptions designated for particular uses. They can be applied to any of the objectives listed in the 1925 campaign. Some of these objections have been waiting more or less distressfully throughout all these years and will welcome the succor which this fund will bring.

As one who has been participating in this Building and Loan plan, I share with my fellows in the satisfaction that the day of redemption is soon at hand. It will be a joy to see my Building and Loan Association send a substantial check to Ursinus as a gift from one who in no other way could have provided anything like the same amount. Congratulations are due the lucky fellow who has already come through.

BASEBALL ATTRACTS GIRLS

Baseball has its attraction to the girls of the college as well as to their fellow-students. The first two practices last week found about twenty hard-hitting coeds batting the ball around.

The enthusiasm in this sport will be spent chiefly in inter-class games. These contests will require at least nine players from each class. This means that there is a chance for all the girls who might be interested in the sport. Particularly those girls, who didn't play basketball or hockey, are urged to come out.

SOCIOLOGY TRIP

In connection with the Sociology courses, a number of Ursinus students left Collegeville last Wednesday afternoon for a visit to the State Hospital in Norristown. Arrangements for the trip were made by Benjamin Seirica '32 through Dr. Miller of the hospital.

GYM CLASSES WILL EXHIBIT

Friday, April 15, the gymnasium will be the scene of an exhibition by the physical education group. Harry Nelson is to have charge of the exercises and apparatus work, and Mrs. Ogden will have charge of the dancing. This exhibition will be very worth while. It is to be conducted in the same way as the ordinary gym class and Miss Snell will supervise the activities.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOC.

REVISES CONSTITUTION

At a meeting of the council of the Women's Athletic Association on Monday evening final steps were taken on the revision of the constitution. Anne Uhrich '32 presided.

The most important changes affect the regulation of the point system in girls' athletics. In relation to this, the amount of playing time necessary for earning a varsity letter was changed from one half of the total number of halves to one quarter of the total amount of playing time.

Captains of the teams will be elected by the members of the respective team, not by the Athletic Council and team, as they were formerly. It was also voted to award a certificate in place of a letter to varsity players after the first year.

More stress is being given to intramural sports in the hope that athletics will be able to reach all of the girls in the college. To this end the number of points to be awarded to members of class teams was raised from twenty-five to fifty credits.

It was also decided to eliminate the distinction between major and minor sports.

This constitution will be posted on the bulletin board where it may be read by all members of the association after which a vote will be taken to adopt it.

TELEPHONE
Date with Home

COLLEGE WORK—college play—even the best of it drags at times. Then's when a telephone chat with Mother and Dad counts most. What a thrill to hear their cheery voices—a thrill that lasts for days!

Make it a habit—telephone home each week. Give them a budget of campus doings—gather the tidbits of family news. You'll enjoy it and they will, too. A "voice visit" home is next best to being there!

Expensive? Not a bit of it, and there's nothing easier!

FOR THE LOWEST COST AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8:30 P. M. and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60c at night; a 50c call is 35c.)

By making a date, the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, charges can be reversed.

The Collegiate Spotlight

By M. L. H.

Psychology students at Duke experimented to find out how long it took the normal bull session to turn to subjects concerning women. The average time was six minutes. Their method was to go to a room and start a conversation about anything but women.

For two years men have worked intermittently to remove a "Y" which was painted on the frieze of Barnard College one night in such a manner to change the name to "Barnyard." No great success has been achieved, however, and the advisability of replacing the stone is being considered.

The president of South Carolina University claims that students use the word "swell" to describe 4,972 different situations.

The Temple "news" boasts of an imposing list of subscribers including Charles Lindbergh, Benito Mussolini, Calvin Coolidge, Mahatma Gandhi, and Pepper Martin.

The University of Kansas publication prints a "Black List" of professors who keep their classes after the bell rings.

Co-eds at Oberlin are allowed to smoke in their rooms provided they supply their own fire extinguishers.

A Goldfish Club has been started at Roanoke College. Initiates are required to swallow one live gold fish. So popular is the organization that there are sixteen members, two of whom are co-eds, and a long waiting list.

He jumped 21 feet, 9 inches in the last event of the last meet of last year on Patterson field. Six records were altered in 1931.

WEEKLY STAFF HOLDS

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET

Dr. Calvin D. Yost, Advisory Editor, mentioned the fact that although this banquet was the Weekly staff's first, it had been designated as an annual affair. He was reminded of the President of a new college who, believing that such an institution should have traditions, instituted several, each to begin at designated times. The Weekly banquet seemed a tradition to be begun and continued.

Dr. Yost commented upon the good work of the staff, explained his own part as advisor rather than censor of the paper and justified the recent action of the Board of Managers in excluding the large cigarette advertisements from the paper. The reason for their decision was two-fold; In the first place many of the constituents of the paper are opposed to cigarette advertisements, and secondly, any half or three quarter page advertisement detracts from the appearance of the small-sized sheet. Dr. Yost concluded by expressing the hope that all the members of the staff will take an interest in their own parts in the work of the paper and that the coming year may be a successful one.

Dr. George L. Omwake, President of the Board of Managers, whom Mr. Alspach introduced as the "most popular columnist" of the Weekly, defended the caption "Annual Banquet." Twenty five years ago annual Weekly dinners were the custom.

Dr. Omwake then reviewed briefly the history of the paper. It was preceded by the Ursinus Bulletin, a monthly literary magazine, of which he was Business Manager. The Weekly was organized in the Fall of 1902 and reorganized in 1914. Since the latter time he has written the column known as "The Tower Window." If all these columns were to be placed end to end they would measure more than once around the race track. Dr. Omwake congratulated the staff upon the quality of the paper, which compares favorably with that of other colleges, and upon the fact that the Weekly is written and managed by a large group of people and is in no way a one-man affair.

Toastmaster Alspach concluded the banquet with an expression of his own appreciation of the staff and with a request for co-operation in the further improvement of the paper.

LOIS STRICKLER CHQSEN

denly the May Queen enters with her court. The crowd becomes hushed and the entire group kneels. They wait expectantly, for the bell of Kharkov to ring, at which signal the Queen shall be crowned. After waiting for several minutes, the crowd becomes impatient. At this moment the bell-ringer enters and announces that the clapper of the bell is gone. The town elders confer, investigate, and find that the clapper has really disappeared. The town crier announces a reward of 100 dratmas for the return of the clapper before sunset in order that the Queen may be crowned that day. The actual pageants deals with the search for the clapper.

CHANGES AND ADDITIONS

MADE IN 1933 RUBY STAFF

Harry H. Pote, of Paulsboro, N. J., was elected business manager of the 1933 Ruby at a junior class meeting held last week. Mr. Pote was elected after the resignation of Kermit B. Mohn of Myerstown, Pa. Mr. Mohn was forced to resign in order to retain the circulation managership of the Weekly.

Two more appointments to the staff were announced by James E. Palm, the editor. Eugene H. Miller, who was omitted by error last week, will be an assistant editor. Kermit B. Mohn will assist Herbert Harris in the sports write-ups.

DR. J. G. GILKEY SPEAKS AT

MORNING CHAPEL SERVICE

put them in order. The development of human intelligence is another factor in proving God. The modernists definition of God, according to Dr. Gilkey, is: "By God, we mean the mind, the power, and the goodness at work in life."

Dr. Gilkey next asked, "What is the relation of God to the huge process going on in the realm of nature?" He found his answer on the way to Australia when he discovered that the ocean liner in which he was sailing was steered automatically by a mechanical device. He concluded that the vessel, in our sense of the word, steered itself in that the mechanism controlled the ship. And yet it did not actually steer itself because mind through mechanism steered the vessel. Science does not explain the existence of things because back of science there had to be a great Mind to put those things in order. The modernists believe that God is using the mechanism of the human brain to send in ideas of his choosing.
